

International Productivity Monitor

The International Productivity Monitor is published by the Centre for the Study of Living Standards (CSLS) to support policy analysis and development in the productivity area. The objective of the Monitor is to focus attention on the importance of productivity for improving living standards and quality of life. The Monitor publishes high-quality articles on productivity issues, trends and developments in Canada and other countries and serves as a vehicle for the international discussion of productivity topics. Print and on-line versions are published twice a year. The articles are largely non-technical in nature and understandable to a wide audience of productivity researchers and analysts as well as the general public. The publication is distributed electronically to anyone interested in productivity issues on a complimentary basis. While most articles are invited, submissions will be considered.
